May - June 2014

From the Desk of the Rabbi Rabbi Rachel Smookler

Rachel@smookler.com

By the time this Bulletin finds you, I am hoping and praying that Spring has finally happened!

It is hard to imagine that I have been with Temple Beth David for one year. When I think back on this past year I feel blessed to have met so many truly kind, thoughtful, funny and dedicated congregants. This past year I have focused on getting to know the congregation, its history and become acquainted with the Rochester Jewish community as well. I have witnessed how this very special community, Temple Beth David, has pulled together to embrace those in our congregation who have suffered great loss and also began celebrating our vision of tikkun olam, repairing the world.

I have met many of you, in the synagogue and in the community. Yet there are still many congregants that I would still love to get to know better! Beginning after Passover and through Chanukkah, it will be my mission to meet each and every Temple Beth David congregant. I would love to get together for lunch, coffee, a walk on the canal or just come to you for a visit. I firmly believe that Judaism happens everywhere, at every moment of your life. Judaism happens when we meet face to

The mission of Temple Beth David is to provide an environment where the concepts of community prayer, education, and service to the greater Jewish community are provided within the context of Conservative Judaism. We pride ourselves on being a friendly, participatory, egalitarian community, welcoming all to be a part of our synagogue family.

News from the President

Helen Kashtan hkashtan@frontiernet.net

As you know, Temple Beth David and Temple Beth El have been meeting informally and formally for the past year and a half. What began as a conversation between two temple presidents envisioning a new model for Conservative Judaism in Rochester, has grown to a committee of nearly 30 people from both of our synagogues working collaboratively to -- hopefully -- bring this vision to reality. Our shared vision is to create a vibrant center for Conservative Judaism in Rochester, one that provides many points of engagement for people -- spiritual, educational, social, and so much more.

A group of 10 representatives met for several months, essentially planning to plan. This was followed by the formation of a steering committee, and now a larger group studying four key areas: facilities, ritual, finance and governance. This collaboration committee is working with support of Judy Beck and Bob Leventhal of USCJ, who endeavor to keep us forward-moving and provide us with invaluable insights and ideas. This effort is funded by a grant from the Farash Foundation.

Where are we heading? The task groups, studying those four areas, will develop a plan based on a single model developed by the governance task group. At the time of this writing, the proposed model is still in development. Please be assured that the task groups and, specifically the governance group, are seeking input from congregants, staff and our consultants. Leadership at both Temples have identified key elements that are important to each congregation. I am proud to be a part of this process that includes dedicated, thoughtful and insightful members of each congregation.

You are welcome to contact me for more information and to share your ideas. Once the collaboration committee has a solid, workable model developed we will present that to our congregations at multiple meetings -- ensuring that all have an opportunity to hear about, consider and possibly contribute to improving the model. Following this, each congregation will take the steps required toward approval and implementation.

Change is difficult. We know that. Our vision respects the histories of both of our congregations, yet we don't want to be handcuffed by these histories. It respects our similarities and the differences, and understands that there may be some discomfort in making adjustments.

Will this work? We hope so because we know that the long-running, current model for synagogues needs updating.

By late-June, if not earlier, we will hopefully be able to share a better picture of the model for the future.

P.S.: Bill Fowlkes, a long-time member, former president of the Board of Trustees and, most recently, Vice President, Finance, has resigned his position. The Board is actively seeking a replacement for VP, Finance and I hope to be able to announce that following the May Board meeting. I'd like to say thank you to Bill for his commitment to and care for our synagogue.

I'shalom, Helen

face. While the synagogue and Shabbat services are a wonderful way to express this Jewish commitment, gathering with members of our community in any space builds community as well. We, at Temple Beth David, can continue to strengthen our historic roots and that warmth that sparked the founders to build a community where everyone can feel at home and help each other other navigate through to a meaningful and Jewish life. You can schedule a time to meet with me individually, or get a group together for lunch or walk!

Please contact the office or contact me directly at rachel@smookler.com.

I look forward to meeting you
