"Making Ourselves Whole Within a Holy Community"

How can we inspire ourselves, have fun, reach out, and grow our community – simultaneously?

After three months, I hope it isn't too chutzpadik to identify, in part, who I think we are:

This is how I see you – and now, us:

- We are readers, liners, and learners

I know there is at least one book club out there – a "foodie book club." Encore! Jewish book month begins 25 Cheshvan and goes through 25 Kislev (November 12 – December 12). Do you belong to a Jewish Book Club? Would you like to join one?

What about studying the parashah of the week? Who says, "yay?" Personally, I have an unhealed hole in my heart, from where my Chicago shul's parashah class used to be. We got the discussion started with insights from modern commentators – sometimes The Chief Rabbi of England, Jonathan Sacks, other times Rabbi Shlomo Riskin, possibly a commentator from Bar Ilan, -- whoever we could find that had something interesting to say that week. But that was only the beginning. The sparks, fun, and really interesting learning came from our passionate, non-Rabbi-led discussions where no one's voice prevailed over anyone else's. We could do this here – at Temple Beth David – with or without the Rabbi...What day and time works for you, if this is one of your unmet passions?

This year, I would love to study and learn to facilitate classes on middot (Jewish values/spiritual sparks). I want to immerse myself in the theological insights of Abraham Joshua Heschel's magnum opus, Torah min haShamayim (Heavenly Torah). I also long to learn more Jewish songs and niggunim. I would like to deepen my knowledge and application of Jewish ethics (parenting, medical ethics, and spiritual activism). Any takers? Would you like to learn with me? What about hosting a mini-course, weekly or monthly learning and discussion in your home? Does participating in a beit midrash (traditional learning with a partner) at shul interest you?

- We care about both free speech and separation of "Church" and State

Would it be possible for us to talk about social and political issues at Temple Beth David in a Town Hall Meeting format? Would one of you like to be a neutral, unbiased, and non-participating facilitator of semiannual or quarterly open forums on issues which might lead to social action or activism (within or outside of shul)?

We pride ourselves on being a friendly, participatory, egalitarian community, welcoming all to be a part of our synagogue family.

President's Article: Imagine

Ron Kraus, President

385-3696

nancyronkraus@earthlink.net

As I look on the coloring leaves outside my window, my imagination takes wing. I start to picture the ways things at TBD might become...

I imagine an increasingly vibrant shul. I see our new rabbi (and others) offering new courses and Jewish experiences for adults and families. I see an exploration of the spiritual and the religious in all corners of our lives - into how we perceive and live in the world. In such experiences we might ask: How can Judaism provide a compass to our lives? I see a dynamic learning community educating ourselves about Jewish core values and applying these in our lives.

I imagine many people being involved in Temple. Without sticking our necks out and becoming involved in synagogue life, congregants will not get the benefits. So I see people being willing to create and run programs, to help the sick and needy among us, to explore how vital synagogues throughout the country conduct themselves, to serve as officers and Board members, and to support the Temple financially and with their presence at events.

I imagine well-attended prayer services. I picture exploring the meaning of prayers and of Torah portions, maintaining traditions and innovating to create meaning and fulfillment for participants. As we continue down the road and explore the role of personal relevance and of a relationship with something greater than ourselves, a good portion of our congregants will be attending Shabbat services and holiday services throughout the year.

I imagine that congregant yearning for social action will materialize in programs. People will come forward and act on what they believe is the right thing to do to help others in our wider community. Whether it is setting up a shelter, helping our Temple become green, being a network for those out of work, or tutoring in the inner city, I see congregants stepping up and making social action at our shul a reality.

I imagine building an even closer sense of community. I see families reaching out to each other even more than they do now, building bonds through joint experiences over time. I see the same with individuals, creating friendships that might be unique in people's lives. I see an even greater welcoming spirit and caring, accepting atmosphere permeating our shul.

Finally, I imagine congregants getting together and charting a course for our synagogue's future. I see brainstorming about what we want our synagogue to look like and setting action steps to get there. I see imaginings like those above as well as those of congregants at large.

So, I bring myself back from my imaginings and now challenge congregants to come up with your own imaginings and let me know what yours are by emailing me at nancyronkraus@earthlink.net. Happy imagining. It is the first step to a better future.

A "Lashon Ha-ra" Free Zone

Sy Zivan, VP Finance

szivan@rochester.rr.com

I was driving to a doctor's office in Clinton Crossings when I spotted a sign that identified the area as a Smoke Free Zone. Upon a moment of reflection it seemed quite obvious why a section of real estate, set aside for serving the medical needs of the community, would ban smoking. By now, one would hope that most everyone knows about the effects smoking has on the health of the smoker and the people around the smoker. There is a certain symbolism surrounding the prohibition of a practice that adversely affects health in a place that is designed to restore health. Then, maybe, if we do not smoke at the doctor's office, we may figure out a way to stop smoking all together.

Then, it struck me. Why not have a Lashon Ha-ra Free Zone at Temple? Lashon Ha-ra -- or tale bearing or gossiping -- is widely known as a most abhorrent practice within the Jewish faith. It is known, sort of like smoking, to harm the one who gossips, the one who hears the gossip, and the one who is talked about. If our faith calls upon us to cease this practice, why not start by prohibiting within the Temple or, at least on Shabbat, or maybe at the Kiddush table?

Then one may ask, why is the Treasurer of the Temple interested in this or interested enough to write a Bulletin article about it? When people visit us on Shabbat we are provided an opportunity to sell Temple Beth David to a prospective member. The last thing any of us should be doing is spreading any dissatisfaction we may feel about Temple Beth David or the people around us in the presence of guests. It does not make sense. It injures the spreader, the listener and, of course, the Temple.

So, let's work together to make Temple Beth David a Lashon Ha-ra Free Zone. Who knows, maybe it will spread to other parts of our lives too!

Rabbi's Desk, con't.

- Some of us believe that davening, reflection, and meditation on Torah can transform our inner beings, and sometimes we need additional motivation to initiate or continue our spiritual desires and disciplines

These practices are deeply personal and touch the essence of who we are and who we open ourselves up to becoming. If you are seeking creative ways to explore and express your spirituality, there are others who share your yearnings at Temple Beth David.

There are myriad other ways in which we can re-create, deepen, and share ourselves as we expand our community – through cooking, music, and dance... There are infinite forms of undiscovered passion and virtuosity in our midst.

How do we begin to implement our collective ideas, satisfy our spiritual longings, and break through real or imagined barriers that may be keeping us from connection with our tradition and our potential? For starters, call me at 585-319-4407 or email me at rabbivivaberg@gmail.com and tell me what you want to plant and sow in our community.

Let us experiment together, create new connections through shared interests and passions, and make ourselves whole within our holy community.

News from Ritual

Gary Cohen 377-2141

Another High Holiday season has gone by and many of us feel quite good about what we saw at Temple Beth David. Rabbi Berg and Cantor Asher were outstanding in their respective roles, and many other congregants helped us to kick off 5770 on a very positive note. Unfortunately, due to lack of time at the end of Yom Kippur (YK), many of the key participants in the YK services were not sufficiently thanked. Many thanks are extended to the following key YK participants:

Dolly and Harold Fishman (In Memory of Marsha Fishman), and Annette Shapiro (In Memory of Richard Braiman) for their donations of YK flowers;
Isaac Asher for his assistance in leading services;
Bernie Roth, for recruiting and organizing Torah and Haftarah readers, along with all of our wonderful Torah and Haftarah Readers;
Bob Frank for shofar blowing;
Debbie Steinfeld and Cindy Halpern for preparing the Book of Remembrance;
Men's Club (under the leadership of President Jonathan Papkin and Rich Steinfeld) for providing ushers;
Nancy Kraus for organizing and conducting school age youth services;
Joanne Katzman and Merrie Franklin for organizing and conducting pre-school services;

Karen Berger for organizing babysitting;
Michael Walker for overseeing building and security, along with Marc Wasserman and Scott Davis for helping to prepare the building for High Holidays;
The Halpern Family for the many things they do relative to setting up mahzorim;
Ron Kraus for his leadership as President;
Bill Gertzog for organizing office activities relating to the High Holidays;
Sylvia Roth, Marilyn Goldberg, Risa Saltzman, Maria Dewhirst and the mailing committee for publishing and distributing the 5770 Sisterhood calendar;
Sisterhood for providing Break Fast refreshments, under the leadership of Florence Phillips, President;
Michael and Linda Horowitz for having our tallesim cleaned;
Maria Dewhirst in the Temple office for all her coordination and support;
Bill Scheuerman for all his work setting up and assisting in so many aspects of Temple life; and
All the members of the Ritual Committee (with special thanks to Pam Rosen and Lisa Klein) for attending to many other details.

My apologies to anyone who might have been inadvertently left off the above list, and many thanks to everyone who participated in the 5770 High Holiday services/process.

ANNUAL CONGREGATIONAL MEETING

WATCH FOR THE AGENDA IN THE MAIL.

Refreshments will be served. This is an important congregational meeting and we look forward to seeing you all on November 15.

News from IHSC

Marcy Berger marcy.berger@gmail.com

467-7820

By the time this bulletin reaches your homes the IHSC will really be in full swing. Right now we are nearing the end of the fall holiday season which has brought a lot of opportunity and, unfortunately, a lot of interruption to the school. However, we try to experience the holiday season to its fullest, so this year we have washed away our sins, we have thought and talked about what we would like to do better, we have sounded the shofar, we have built and decorated sukkot, we have shaken the lulav, we have packed pickles to eat in our sukkahs (making the whole building smell of garlic and dill!), and we have talked about the cycle of Torah reading that ends and begins now. Somehow we have also fit in beginning our prayer and alef-bet curriculum, introducing our other curriculum strands.

Sisterhood's Sweet and Delicious Honey Cakes

Lois Markus and Annette Shapiro

A "mitzvah" is defined as Tikkun Olam. It is an act of human kindness or a good deed. Again this year we were able to bake cakes for the Jewish Troops overseas. We were so pleased that we were able to be part of this very special project under the direction of Keith Freedman and his Boy Scouts. This year we had sponsors for part of the program and we want to give a very special Thank You to all the congregants that sponsored a cake (or two or three) for our Jewish Troops overseas. We also want to thank all those who purchased a cake for themselves, a friend or a relative. The money realized from the sale of these cakes will be used to support the many projects of Temple Beth David Sisterhood.

Special Thanks to Ida Dell, Marsha Greenberg, Jewell Rothstein, and Risa Saltzman who were a tremendous help with the Honey Cake baking this year. It truly was a pleasure working with them. It was because of their involvement all went smoothly.

We wish you all a very sweet and healthy New Year.

L'Shanah Tovah!

Save Temple Money and Do a "Green Deed"

Maria Dewhirst

266-3223

templebd@rochester.rr.com

In hopes of saving money and time, we are offering two new options in regard to your temple account.

First, you may not be aware that as a non-profit organization, we are required by law to send out donor statements to each and every donor that sends in any donations in a given year. Last year, that mailing alone amounted to over 400 pieces of first-class mail. If you would be willing to receive your year-end donor statement by email instead of snail mail, please let us know. Just after January first, we will email you a statement of your account appropriate for tax purposes.

Second, we would like to offer an email billing option. This would be similar to the donor statements, except that you would receive your statement several times each year (whenever you have a balance due.) This is available for all members with an email address.

No sensitive information would be sent over the internet. For example, your social security number, credit card numbers, or any other identifying information would not be included. The only information on the donor or billing statements is your name, address, the amount and date of your donations and your balance due, if applicable.

This is an optional program. We will not start sending monthly statements or donor statements via email unless you call the office and request it. We only want to help reduce, reuse, and recycle. Hopefully, we can cut down on postage costs as well.

Please be assured that we never share any email addresses with other organizations.

Questions or Concerns? Please call or email me Temple Office.
